

Hey there and welcome!

So you're here because you are curious about what exactly The Love Scout is and you're keen to know more. Let me guess, you probably thought you'd never be in this situation of seeking assistance in love & partnership, but you find yourself here because you are looking for something real; a deep and genuine connection that doesn't seem to be readily available out there. You want a life partner and team player; someone to explore, share and grow with, and enjoy everything that life has to offer!

This is such a normal thing to crave, and as AI and algorithms dictate our daily existence and make us more addicted to our phones, the old school ways of meeting people are almost non-existent. We are too connected to our phones and digital communities, which is making it harder and harder to connect in real life. What happened to the old school ways of meeting people out and about? You're definitely not the only who is thinking this.

Congrats on getting up the courage to step out of your comfort zone even with this first little step of considering something new. You've recognized that what you have been doing hasn't achieved the results you want, so you've actually decided to do something about it. That already says a lot about the type of person you are; bold, insightful, curious, reflective. Sometimes in life we've got to take a little risk for a great pay off. So, I ask you now, who do you want to be in love? Do you want to sit in the bench or do you want to play on the field?

So, what's this all about?

As a Sydneysider and working professional, no doubt your calendar is brimming with obligations to your daily life; work, friends, family, gym, life admin, sports, social events, maybe kids, and the available time you have to scout out prospective partners is incredibly limited. And it's not just the time; it's the emotional energy to screen through people who are not connecting with you. And who could blame you?

However, the pursuit of love, happiness, friendship, intimacy, sex and companionship is something that most of us are naturally seeking. You know that a great relationship can fill you with euphoria, motivation, inspiration, tranquility and purpose. They can also be the antidote to depression, loneliness & meaninglessness. It's waking up on a Sunday morning to a warm body in bed, a snuggle, a kiss on the forehead and a coffee at your side. It's someone to sing in the car with and make jokes with and soak up all of life's little in between moments.

A great relationship can bring colour to your life, heart and soul; it can make life worth living. I know this, and most likely you do too, and that is why I am so passionate about helping you find and cultivate it in your life. I'm dedicating my life to helping others find love and companionship because I truly believe that on your death bed, it is what matters most, and I want you to have the richest, most fulfilling and loving time on this earth.

Who am I?

I'm The Love Scout, or just Scout to my friends (yeah seriously, that's my legal name!) I have a Bachelor's from USYD in human relationships (my transcript covers everything from sex to love, friendship, intimacy, the body, masculinity, sexuality and the philosophy of happiness). I'm currently completing my Post Graduate Degree in Counselling and I'm the CEO of School of Connection Sydney which runs educational relationship workshops (all the things you didn't learn at school). I have a deep passion for love and bringing people together so that they can support each other as the best versions of themselves.

Partnership Philosophy

Relationship is an umbrella term that describes many kinds of connections between two people. The Love Scout definition of partnership is the equal union of two people dedicated to building a life together. We believe there are 4C's for partnership establishment, and 3G's for partnership endurance.

- Chemistry – the initial spark that ignites our physical, sexual and physiological potential.
- Connection – the emotional aspect of who the person is, who they are being, how they are speaking, acting, behaving and how they make you feel.
- Communication – the willingness and wanting to openly express, share and communicate will be the lifeline to the relationship
- Core Values – the intellectual piece where foundational beliefs are congruent and aligned.
- Growth – both parties are committed to their individual development (spiritual, intellectual, emotional, physical, and financial), to the other and also the relationship unit itself.
- Gratitude – both parties strive to be in a perpetual state of offering thanks for what they have in their lives, separately & individually (material/immaterial). They appreciate the many obvious and subtle aspects of the other person's character.
- Gifting – being a state of selflessness and being more focused on the value that they can provide. This can be expressed through time, presence, money, travel, physical gifts, patience, touch, hugs, love making, kind words.

The 4C's are what you need to start the fire. The 3G's are what you need to keep the flame burning for a lifetime. True love & partnership comes from the alignment of these 6 concepts. Two individuals who share this mindset are bound for a flourishing, love, deep connection & intimacy.

The screening process is very thorough and only accepts people who are in alignment with these principles and who understand what it takes to create a great and lasting partnership. This model is not for everyone, but it is for those who are ready. If you know who you are, know what you want, and resonate with our partnership philosophy, then The Love Scout is for you.

What makes The Love Scout completely unique?

I, Scout, spend up to 3 hours getting to know every single client in person. There are no algorithms or online profiles. Nothing is left to chance or tech.

The comprehensive personality profile (CPP) has 50 qualitative prompts. Every other match-making service bases their matches on what you like. We base our matches on who you are. Our qualitative approach means we connect individuals that have the capacity to bond on a deep, intimate and meaningful level. This is the most comprehensive profile in Australia.

We are incredibly discerning with our clientele. All clients must have self-awareness, be committed to growth and in a strong mental capacity for developing a relationship. This results in a very high quality clientele.

We run interactive workshops to make sure you have all the skills & tools you need. We want you to bring your best self to the relationship so you can attract the best partner.

We integrate the best bits of psychology & philosophy into our profiling & workshops. There is a science & education element to our work so that you get the best results.

We know it's all about chemistry, values & the things that really matter. Lust wanes but genuine connection, kindness, consistency and commitment make the strongest relationships.

Every other match-making service is about 20 years out of date! We provide a fresh perspective, with a modern business model built to reflect modern times.

We offer additional one on one services. We don't want you to just have a relationship; we want you to have the deepest, most connected and rich relationship of your life and give you the tools to make it go the distance.

We care about your happiness & quality of life well past your experience with us. We want you to walk away with the tools to maintain your happiness until the end of your days.

So, now what?
